

STATE RESTS CASE AGAINST WOODYATT THIS MORN

CHURCHMAN MAY BE ARRESTED IN DOUBLE SLAYING

Prominent Man Said to Have Had Knowledge of Two Deaths.

BULLETIN

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Special Deputy Attorney General Mott stated today that he had found a person who corroborated the story told by the farmer woman, Mrs. Jane Gibson, who witnessed the slaying the night of September 14, of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills.

"This case," said Mr. Mott, "is complex but it is not a mystery."

He said that he could take his evidence to the grand jury immediately, but the complexity of the case made it necessary for him to go slowly. He would not name the witness he said had corroborated Mrs. Gibson's statement.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 27.—Wilbur A. Mott, special deputy Attorney General, who has taken over the inquiry into the Hall-Mills murder mystery, expected to interview a prominent churchman today in an effort to corroborate statements of Mrs. Jane Gibson, eye witness of the double slaying.

Mott indicated that he intended to cause the churchman's arrest unless he agrees to become a witness for the prosecution. Failure of the man said to have been near the scene of the murder, to acquaint the authorities with his alleged knowledge of the affair, has laid him liable to arrest, Prosecutor Mott believes.

Also Found Letters
Mott is said to be in possession of data showing that this same man had discovered the letters of Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, slain choir leader, to the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was killed with her, and that he showed them to Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, the clergyman's wife.

His car is said to have been parked near the crab apple tree on the old Phillips place and its headlights made it possible for Mrs. Gibson to see the fight that ended in the death of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills.

Attorney Timothy N. Pfeffer, representing Mrs. Hall, denied that either Mrs. Hall or her brother, Henry Stevens, were present when the clergyman and his choir singer were killed. He reiterated that Mrs. Hall did not leave her home that night between 8 p. m. and 2 a. m., and that Henry Stevens was fishing at Lavelette, N. J. His statement followed the disclosure that Mrs. Hall and Mr. Stevens were the persons named in the sworn statement of Mrs. Gibson.

Prosecutor Mott intimated that arrests were imminent but that he preferred to wait until he had an "iron clad" case. Persons under suspicion are being watched closely.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Born October 27, 1858
Died January 6, 1919

ROOSEVELT
And the Navy

The anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's birth today is the choice of America's sea fighters as "Navy Day."

"It is appropriate," says a statement by the Navy Recruiting Bureau, "that the first Navy Day should have the same date as Roosevelt's birthday, for a stauncher friend the navy never had."

As early as 1901 Roosevelt was lifting up his voice for an adequate American sea force. "The work of upbuilding the navy," he declared, "must be steadily continued. No one point of our policy, foreign or domestic, is more important than this to the honor and material welfare, and, above all, to the peace of our nation in the future."

Again: "The navy offers us the only means of making our insistence upon the Monroe Doctrine anything but a subject of decision to whatever nation chooses to disregard it. We desire the peace which comes as of right to the just man armed, not the peace granted on terms of ignominy to the craven and the weakling."

Preparedness, too, was his theme. "It is not possible to improvise a navy after war breaks out. The ships must be built and the men trained long in advance."

Need of Men
Himself intensely human, the human element in every proposition appealed to Roosevelt. The differences between personnel and material were distinctly apparent to him. He understood man power.

"I call your special attention," he said, in 1902, "to the need of providing for manning of ships. It is no more possible to improvise a crew than it is possible to improvise a warship."

In the same year: "There is not a cloud on the horizon at present."

DIXON EDUCATOR HEADS TEACHERS OF N. W. DIVISION

L. W. Miller Honored at Rockford at Assn.
Meeting.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rockford, Ill., Oct. 27.—Attempt of the Rockford Teachers' Club to wrest control of the Northwestern Division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association from the group of school executives alleged to be directing the sectional organization was made on the convention floor this morning.

Expected support of the "insurgent ticket," crumbling before the first ballot, spelled defeat for the Teachers' club, and a growing tendency on the part of the class room teacher for further recognition in the official group of the state association was revealed. The officers elected: President, L. W.

We most earnestly hope that this state of things may continue; and the way to insure its continuance is to provide for a thoroughly efficient navy. Fatuous self-complacency or vanity, or shortsightedness in refusing to prepare for danger, is both foolish and wicked in such a nation as ours."

In 1904: "Our voice is now potent for peace, and is so potent because we are not afraid of war. But our protestations upon behalf of peace would neither receive nor deserve the slightest attention if we were impotent to make them good."

Upon another occasion: "A strong and wise people will study its own failures no less than its triumphs."

War of 1812

And then Roosevelt proceeded to draw a lesson from the War of 1812. If, during the 12 years which preceded it, he said, the United States had built up an army and a navy as good as those she possessed at the time he spoke, "there never," he asserted, "would have been the slightest necessity for fighting that war; and if the necessity had arisen, the war would have ended with our speedy and overwhelming triumph."

"But our people," continued the president, "refused to make any preparations whatever. They saved a million or two of dollars by so doing, and in mere money paid a hundredfold for each million thus saved, during the three years of war which followed—a war which brought untold suffering upon our people and which at one time threatened the gravest national disaster, and which, in spite of the necessity of waging it, resulted merely in what was in effect a drawn battle."

LIEUTENANT WHO SHELLED HOMES IS NOT NAMED

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 27.—The name of the second lieutenant responsible for the blunder which resulted in the shelling of the Farwell and McCormick estates at Lake Forest Wednesday, will not be made public, Brig. Gen. Moseley, commandant at Fort Sheridan announced today.

In refusing to divulge the name of the lieutenant, General Moseley said the offending officer had a previous record for efficiency, although he had been "grossly negligent" in target practice Wednesday.

According to General Moseley the officer was in charge of a squad practicing with a one pound gun and instead of firing into Lake Michigan, trained the gun up the beach. The shells struck the beach and ricocheting, hurtled into the Francis C. Farwell mansion. Other shells plowed up the lawn of the estates of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, Cyrus H. McCormick and J. Ogden Armour.

The firing was stopped by a call from Mrs. J. V. Farwell, who said one of the projectiles passed over her head and hit in a ravine, while a second passed over her house near the other estates. To General Moseley she expressed sympathy for the young lieutenant when informed of investigation, and said that so far as she was concerned, the shelling of Lake Forest was "a closed incident."

STROHMEIER TO PILOT MAROONS IN BIG CONTEST

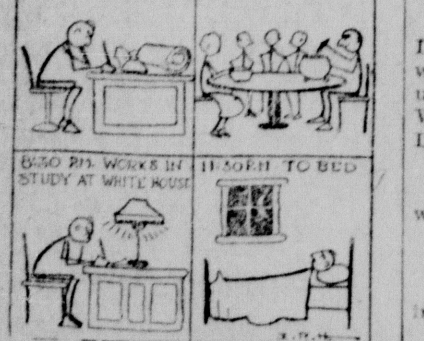

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Old grads of Princeton gathered here today to greet the Tigers who came out of the east to meet Chicago tomorrow in one of the great football games of history. Sons of Old Nassau from all sections of the country met at Princeton headquarters established at an uptown hotel, where preparations had been made for a rousing reception for the team and the several hundred rooters accompanying the players.

Both teams were in top form for the important struggle, which will mark the first appearance of a Princeton team on Stagg Field.

Coach Stagg put the Maroons through a light drill today to polish up the new plays held in reserve to use against the Tigers. On the eve of battle the "Old Man" announced the selection of Otto Strohmeyer, one of the most versatile players developed at Chicago in years, as pilot for tomorrow's game. Strohmeyer has been shifted from end to quarterback for the Princeton struggle.

The program for the Princeton team after the reception called for light practice this afternoon. Both Stagg Field and the Northwestern University gridiron were offered to Coach Roper for practice.

COMPANION TELLS STORY OF DEATH OF LONG: ONE STATE WITNESS CHANGED TESTIMONY

Cousin of Deceased
Tells of Tragedy
at the Fence.

BULLETIN

Leonard Woodyatt took the stand this afternoon in his own defense against the charge of murder preferred against him by the state. He was on the stand at press time.

The prosecution rested its case against Leonard Woodyatt charged with the murder of Herbert Long of Harmon on July 29, at 11:15 o'clock this morning and the defense at once entered upon its fight to save the defendant from the gallows or prison.

Leo Kelly was the first witness on the stand today for the state. He testified that Woodyatt told him he had a woman back by the fence, and stated the price. The witness said: "After we went back to the fence, there were three or four fellows back there, the woman wasn't there at the time, O'Malley, Mealey and myself went to the carnival grounds. We went to the hamburger stand, saw Harold Tuttle, and then went back to the fence. Long was there and started to go over the fence. He had one hand on the post and one foot on the wire when Woodyatt jerked him back. They started to scuffle and Woodyatt shot at his feet. I looked around and all the fellows had gone so I ran."

In the cross-examination by Mr. Brooks, Kelly stated that Long muttered something to Woodyatt when Woodyatt jerked him back but he couldn't understand it. He also admitted having the bottle of wine from which the boys had been drinking.

Companion on Stand.
William McCormick, companion of the victim of the tragedy, was the next witness. He said:

Long and I and some other fellows went toward the wire fence and Long started to crawl through the fence and Woodyatt pulled him back from going through. They had a tussle for a few seconds and Woodyatt broke loose and fired one shot in the ground. After he shot, Long started to back up, put his hands over his face and stooped over a crouched position. He said, "For God's sake, Stuh, don't shoot me." Questioned by the state he said:

Q.—What did the people do?
A.—They all ran.
Q.—What did Mr. Woodyatt do and what did Herbert do?
A.—Herbert kept backing up and Woodyatt kept advancing toward him.
Q.—Were there any other shots fired?

A.—Three more after the first one.
Q.—Where was the last shot fired and where was Herbert?

A.—The last shot was fired right near the carnival wagon.

Q.—In what position, if you recall?

A.—He was still in the same position, backing away.

Q.—Did you see anybody point a revolver at him?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—Was that gun discharged?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—And what did you see Herbert doing immediately afterwards?

A.—After the last shot, Herbert fell to the ground immediately.

A.—He called me and said, "Bill, he shot me," and I went to him.

Q.—Where did he fall, or where did he lay when you got to him?

A.—Underneath the platform that came out from this wagon. Not underneath the wheels but underneath the platform.

Q.—How far apart did you say they were after Herbert left the fence and started backing up?

A.—Perhaps six or seven steps.

Q.—What did Herbert Long have in his hands?

A.—Nothing but a sandwich.

Q.—What did you next do after Long fell after being shot?

A.—I went over to where he lay there and looked him over and went over to Ed Fane's house and telephoned to his mother.

Q.—Who did you tell to call up the sheriff?

A.—The family that was staying there.

No Blows Struck.
Q.—Mr. McCormick, did Herbert Long at any time, from the time he went to the fence and was pulled back until after he was shot by Leonard Woodyatt, strike or threaten to strike Leonard Woodyatt?

A.—No sir.

Q.—Did he have any firearms or any weapons of any character?

A.—No sir.

Cross-Examination by Mr. Brooks.
Q.—Which way was Woodyatt facing when this trouble started?

A.—I'm not familiar with the direc-

HIGH LIGHTS IN WOODYATT TRIAL

William McCormick, companion of Herbert Long on tragic night, eye-witness to the shooting, told graphic story of death of Harmon young man.

Harold Tuttle of Dixon was ordered in custody of Sheriff yesterday afternoon when he failed to testify as he had before the grand jury which returned the indictment. However, after a conference with the State's Attorney last evening, he was recalled to the stand this morning and said he had seen "Woodyatt pull a gun."

Ray Adams and Helen Gibson, employees of the Heth Carnival Co., important witnesses for the state, who, it is reported were unexpected by the defense gave evidence that Woodyatt had admitted shooting a man a few minutes after the tragedy at the carnival grounds, July 29, 1922.

Jurors and spectators were visibly affected when Supervisor Thomas Long, venerable Harmon merchant, struggling to control his emotions, testified to the death of his son. The slain man's widow and sister sobbed audibly as the gray-haired father completed his testimony.

The state rested just before noon and the defense took up its battle to save the defendant from punishment.

Attorney Brooks, immediately Tuttle was turned over to him from cross-examination, sought to see if Tuttle had been "prompted" to change his testimony. The chief attorney for the defense asked:

Q.—Where did you have your recollection refreshed? At the State's Attorney's office? They took you over there last night?

A.—No sir.

Q.—You heard Mr. Erwin tell the Sheriff to hold you, didn't you?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—Was Mr. Erwin there when they took you over there?

A.—I don't remember.

Q.—Mr. Keller was there?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—What was done that refreshed your recollection?

A.—That just asked me if I remembered what I testified before the grand jury.

Read No Papers to Him.
Q.—Did they read any papers to you?

A.—No sir.

Q.—Did they make any threats to you?

A.—No sir.

Q.—What was said to you by those gentlemen at that time?

A.—They just asked me if I remembered what I said before the grand jury?

Q.—They told you what you said before the grand jury?

A.—No sir.

Q.—When you were at the inquest you testified the same as you did yesterday?

A.—No sir.

Q.—What caused you to change your mind?

A.—I just remembered what I had said.

Q.—Were you alarmed when Mr. Erwin told the Sheriff to hold you?

A.—No sir.

Q.—You stayed in the court room yesterday at the Sheriff's request?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—You went in the State's Attorney's office because you were intimidated?

A.—Yes sir.

Read Over Testimony.
Q.—Did you read over your testimony to the grand jury?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—What else did you do?

A.—That's all.

Q.—Didn't you have a clearer recollection of what took place yesterday?

A.—No sir.

Q.—What was it that confused you and made you forget that testimony?

A.—I don't know.

Q.—You say all that you saw was Woodyatt put his hand on Long's shoulder?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—Do you know whether or not Long hit Woodyatt?

A.—No sir.

Q.—As far as you saw he might have?

A.—It could have been possible.

Q.—You testified yesterday that your attention was occupied, that you were talking to someone else and a great many things could have happened?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—You don't know who started it, do you?

A.—No sir.

Q.—Did you see anything after the Harold Tuttle Faced Serious Charge After His Evidence.

An unusual sensation marked the Woodyatt murder trial in the Circuit court Thursday afternoon, when after Harold Tuttle of Dixon, a state witness had left the stand, Attorney Erwin of the prosecution publicly requested the sheriff to hold the witness. It developed that Tuttle had not testified as he did before the grand jury which returned the indictment against the defendant, and rumors of action for perjury against the young man were rife.

However, after the conclusion of the afternoon's hearing, young Tuttle was called into conference with the authorities, and as a result of that conference he was recalled to the stand this morning, his brief examination by Mr. Erwin being as follows:

Saw Gun Pulled.
Q.—You were on the stand yesterday?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—Have you refreshed your recollection as to the happening at the fence at the carnival grounds when Mr. Long came up there?

A.—Yes sir. I saw Mr. Woodyatt when he pulled Long back from the fence and they started scuffling, and he pulled a gun.

Attorney Brooks, immediately Tuttle was turned over to him from cross-examination, sought to see if Tuttle had been "prompted" to change his testimony. The chief attorney for the defense asked:

brother of the accused, was then called to the stand and testified that he was a brother of the defendant, and that he also had been acquainted with Herbert Long, commonly called "Mickey" Long, for several years. Attorney H. A. Brooks then asked the witness to testify as to the general character as a peaceable and quiet citizen as he knew it of Herbert Long, both in Harmon and Dixon. To this the state made instant objection and Judge Edwards ordered the jury removed from the court room, for the purpose of hearing the attorney for the defense. Judge Edwards held that the introduction of such testimony should not be begun until the self-defense testimony was taken. He also held that a man might have a good reputation in one community and not be well thought of in another, holding that the question as put by Attorney Brooks embodied the general character both in Dixon and Harmon. The objection as made was sustained and the jury returned.

Tells of Employment.
"Leonard Woodyatt, was employed by C. G. Shepherd, agent of the Illinois Central railroad through my recommendation," said the witness. "Agent Shepherd engaged Leonard and myself and all three of us went to the sheriff's office to be sworn in. I was given a star but Leonard was not, so when I was through with my work, I gave him my star, until a few days later when another star was furnished. Leonard took up his duties on July 2. Neither of us had a gun of our own and Agent Shepherd furnished a revolver to me and I gave it to Leonard when he went on duty at 6 o'clock in the evening. He worked from 6 o'clock in the evening until 5, 6 or 7 o'clock in the morning."

I heard Leonard swear in as a deputy sheriff but nothing was said as to the limitation of his authority, but as a deputy sheriff of Lee county."

Saw Woodyatt at Depot.
Fred Thurm of this city, a teamster, was the first witness to be called at the Thursday afternoon session. He told of being at the Illinois Central depot on the evening of July 29, 1922, waiting with Fred Traaschel for Mike Drew, when he saw Leonard "Stub" Woodyatt come up on the platform. Woodyatt, he said, had left an automobile at the Seventh street crossing and walking up to Harry Pine, placed the revolver under Pine's nose and said: "Does that smell like it was in working order?" Thurm testified that Woodyatt said that he had fired two or three shots at a bunch of Harmon fellows at the carnival grounds and added that if they came down to the depot after him that he would shoot to kill and at the same time said that he wanted more ammunition. Thurm said that he saw Woodyatt apply the safety on the automatic, while standing on the depot platform.

On the cross examination, which was conducted by Attorney H. A. Brooks, the witness became exercised at some of the questions submitted to him and some pointed answers were given. The Attorney was reviewing the evidence given at the coroner's inquest following the killing and after some minutes was notified by State Attorney Mark C. Keller that he was quizzing the witness on testimony which had been given at the coroner's inquisition by another witness.

Father Wept on Stand.
Thomas Long, supervisor from Harmon township, and father of the deceased, was called by the state to take the stand. Mr. Long said that he last saw Herbert alive at the family home in Harmon about 6 o'clock on the evening of July 29. When Attorney John Erwin asked where he next saw his son, Herbert, the venerable supervisor bowed his head, broke into tears and after some hesitation, during which time he was endeavoring to control his emotions, answered that he next saw Herbert at the Jones undertaking parlors, dead.

The clearly audible sobs of other members of the family cast a hushed spell over the court room and many could be seen to be wiping away tears. The wife of the deceased who was seated directly back of the State's Attorney and Attorney Erwin, broke down and sobbed bitterly while the supervisor answered the few brief questions which were put to him.

Show Man on Stand.
Ray Adams of Harrisburg, Pa., proprietor of the Hawaiian Village, back of which "Long's" body was alleged to have been found, was the third witness for the state Thursday afternoon. His testimony, under the interrogations of the prosecution was as follows:

Q—Were you in Dixon during the month of July, 1922?
A—Yes, sir.
Q—During what time?
A—It was a week in the latter part of July, around the 29th.

Q—Do you recollect Saturday, the 29th day of July, 1922?
A—Yes, sir.
Q—Were you interested in the carnival in any way?
A—Yes, sir. I was manager of the Hawaiian show.

Q—Where was the carnival located with reference to Dixon, Ill.?
A—Some place out on a hill beyond the depot.

Q—A short way beyond the depot?
A—Yes, sir.

Q—Would you tell the jury the location of the show, particularly with reference to the fences, and the location of the shows surrounding yours?
A—My show, the Hawaiian Village, was on the left hand side, in the Midway—at the end of the Midway. The Superia show was right next to the right of mine. The back of my show was up against the fence that ran around the corn field.

Q—Let me ask you whether or not that show had a wagon of some character?

A—Yes, that show had three wagons.

Q—Do you recollect the wagon under which the deceased, Herbert

Long, was found?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Will you explain to the jury how that wagon was made up?

A—It is a stage wagon, made to unfold. I judge, that when the wagon is unfolded out it stands about seven feet, with three legs—one on each corner and one in the center, and that forms the apron of the stage.

Q—After you arrive for the purpose of locating this carnival, will you tell the jury what is done with reference to the wagons?

A—The first thing they do is take the tongue off and shove it back under the wagon.

Q—When the side of the wagon you speak of is folded down and standing upon the three legs, what is the height of that side?

A—I couldn't just say the exact distance from the ground to the platform, but I remember walking under it and I didn't have to stoop.

Q—How tall are you?

A—About five foot, nine.

Q—How was that wagon standing on the 29th of July along about 11 or between 11 and 12 at night?

A—The wagon hadn't been moved at that time. The platform was in the same position as it had been all week

—down, standing on the three legs.

Saw Woodyatt There.

Q—Let me ask you whether or not you saw the defendant Woodyatt on that occasion?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—About what time of the night

did you see him?

A—I saw him before my show was over. He was in and out of my show.

Q—How did he get into your show?

A—He displayed one of his badges.

Q—Did you see Mr. Woodyatt more than once on the 29th day of July?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—About what time did you see him

first on that night?

A—Around 9:30—between 9 and 10.

Q—What was he doing, or where did he go, on that occasion?

A—He went into my show.

Q—Did he purchase a ticket?

A—No, sir.

Q—What did he do after he went into your show?

A—He went to the ticket stand.

Q—What condition was your show in, in the matter of taking it down, when you saw him the second time?

A—The side wall was down and the platform was taken out from the inside.

Q—Will you tell the jury what he did and what he said on the second occasion you saw him, and about what time?

A—Between 11 and 12, the lights were still burning in my tent, when a party came running up to me and he said, "Hold them back or I'll shoot more." He had an automatic in his hand. "I did shoot one fellow down there," I asked him who he was, and he said, "I'm a deputy sheriff." "Why not deputize me or some other around here and go back and get the man?"

I said. Instead of that, he ran. After he left I went down to where the body was under the wagon. Me and another man pulled this body out and turned him over. I asked him if it was a carnival man he shot. He said

"Yes," I saw it wasn't a carnival man, so I walked away.

Q—Was he dead when you got there?

A—I don't think so.

Q—Did he die immediately afterwards?

A—I can't say as to that?

Q—Did you see him afterwards dead?

A—No, sir.

Q—Let me ask you whether or not you afterwards saw the man that ran into your tent and said he had shot

a man?

A—Yes, sir. I saw him that same evening.

Q—Where?

A—At the county jail in Dixon.

Q—Who was he? Was that Leonard Woodyatt?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Was he the same man you saw at the jail that was identified as

Leonard Woodyatt?

A—Positively.

Q—Is this the defendant the same man you saw on that occasion?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Let me ask you if after the explanation that "they were after him" if you went to see if there was anybody after him?

A—No, sir. Afterwards he said

"keep them back" and after he left I went down to see the party that was shot.

No One Chasing Him

Q—Was there anybody chasing him?

A—No, sir.

Q—Was the body under the wagon proper or under the apron or platform?

A—The body was under the apron.

Q—Were there any bolts extending from the bottom of the wagon or the bottom of the apron?

A—I would hardly think so; when the side of the apron is folded up against the wagon it closes that side of the wagon and it is a smooth surface with a canvas cover.

Q—Then there would be no bolts

under the show wagon?

A—No, sir.

Q—Who was with you, if anybody,

at the tent that night when Leonard came with the gun?

A—Nobody. But there were some carnival ladies at my wagon.

INTERMEZZO—

(From Christian Science Monitor.)
The shadowy walls recede and stand ajar;
Scented fragrances awake; the windows glow
Deep blue with evening stillness; faint and far
The wandering echoes of the after-glow
Drift like spent music; now the cleansing flow
Of quietude sweeps all unrest from sight.
Down through the sky, from some remote height,
Swift stars descend, and on their loving way
In lovely silence of unfolding light
Declare the radiance of the coming day. —Grace Hodson Boutelle.

KIMBALL HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE CLUB—

The Kimball Household Science club met at the home of Mrs. R. W. Long Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 25th, and was delightfully entertained. The music which was furnished by Mesdames Hill and Kranov was exceptionally good and they responded to several encores.

Mrs. Roman Malach gave a very fine address. Mrs. Long demonstrated a cold pack sandwich filling which was given by the girls at the State Fair school. The meeting was largely attended and much good was derived from the work. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clifford Hill.

Hood follows: "To vote either for or against the beer and wine program would be to accept the wet claim that the liquor traffic can be re-established without removing the 18th amendment and politics should not fall into the trap."

Requests will be sent to Senators W. B. McKinley and Medill McCormick, that they use their influence in having more enforcement officers appointed.

The convention urged the women to select such literature and newspapers for reading, which stand for prohibition.

(It should be emphasized at this time that our women take more time to peruse our daily paper, especially the editorials which stand for prohibition so clearly.)

The treasurer's report was given by Miss Caille Morgan. It was decided to send for a supply of literature and

Woman Held; Hubby Reported Poisoned

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Tilly Klimek and her son, Joseph Mitkewicz, were arrested early today and held pending an investigation of the illness of the woman's husband, Joseph Klimek, 52, reported dying from the effects of a slow poison. Klimek, the police said, is at least his wife's fifth husband. Police and the coroner's office opened an investigation into the death of four men the woman is known to have married. Klimek carried life insurance with several companies, the police said. During the course of his illness before Klimek was removed to a hospital two dogs belonging to the family died after eating scraps from the table, according to the police.

18-Year-Old Canada Youth Married Grand-Mother; is Called Off

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Calais, Maine, Oct. 27.—George Eya of Calais, who went through the marriage ceremony with his own grandmother, was still a bachelor today. On learning the relationship of bride and groom, the Canadian clergyman who married them hurried after them, and seized the marriage certificate. Eya is 18 years old. His bride whose age was given before the ceremony as 43, today admitted she was 63. The ceremony was performed at St. Stephen, N. B., by Rev. W. Goucher of that place. Mrs. Martha Day and Lester Marshall, both of Calais were the witnesses. The nuptial party returned to their home here, and a wedding reception was in progress when the clergyman arrived to declare the marriage illegal because of the relationship of the contracting parties. The fee was also returned.

T. R.

The time that has lapsed since the death of Theodore Roosevelt is too brief to furnish the perspective necessary in determining the real position that he will hold in our permanent history.

As president his most far-reaching public service was the "trust-busting" movement he fathered to demonstrate that the people of the United States, through their government, are more powerful than any possible combination of dollars or individuals.
The demonstration is not yet complete.

As Roosevelt Memorial Day rolls round this year, however, T. R. the man looms above T. R. the politician.
That is as he would have preferred
it.

With a virility and explosive nervous energy that made him the typical American, T. R. at the height of his influence had the greatest popular following of any presidents except Jackson and Jefferson.

As a personality he looms monu-mentally, and his influence still is exercising itself in America on a scale perhaps greater than even his most ardent enthusiast would claim.

The life and career of T. R. demonstrated that personality is the most powerful of all human forces.

THE NEW TAX PROPOSITION

Harrison B. Riley, president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, has been making a special study of the changes in the revenue article as made by the Illinois constitutional convention, and he says that even if nothing else had been changed that would be enough to make the drafting of the new document worth while. He says the new revenue article furnishes a measure of relief, in the shape of lower taxation, for not only the home owner but also the renter. He points out that the aim of the constitution makers was to interest directly as large a body of taxpayers to make it very much more difficult than at present for the holder of profit-yielding "intangible" property to escape his fair share of the tax burden. Relief to owners of real property is sure to come through the practical substitution of the income tax for the property tax, with the added provision that personal property reported for taxation may be deducted from the income schedule. This combination of property and income tax is sure to prove preferable to either one alone. A straight income tax would amount simply to the exemption of non-income producing personal property.

The Chicago expert declares it would be doubtful wisdom to exempt from taxation vacant or speculative real estate or non-income producing personal property, such as pleasure cars, precious stones, speculative non-dividend paying stocks or other personal property held for pleasure, adornment or secure profit.

Under the proposed constitution every dollar collected by the income tax or otherwise from the owner of taxable personal property will lighten by much the burden of the owner and the tenant of real estate. It will increase the yield from taxation and there will reduce the rate necessary to be levied.

ILLINOIS' BASIC LAW

It is the duty, right now, of every voter in Illinois, to carefully study the proposed new constitution and be prepared to vote intelligently on the question November 12. To vote with the last day and then decide on voting because of ignorance of the problem involved is not good citizenship. The voter has a moral duty to perform this duty entailed upon him by his citizenship, and no good citizen will fail to do his full duty as a voter.

No doubt thousands of voters in this state are "on the fence" and do not yet know just what the proposed constitution means, just what its effect will be, or how they ought to vote, and the time when these votes must be cast is not far away. Get a copy of the document and study it as you would study a problem affecting your own personal business, and then vote just as you believe you ought to vote, but do not neglect to vote and to do it intelligently and informed-ly.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

The president has issued an appeal for funds for Near East Relief. A special committee has been formed to assist in raising money for food and supplies for starving and freezing refugees. It consists of representatives of the American Red Cross, the Near East Relief, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., Federated Council of Churches, Knights of Columbus, American Relief administration and Jewish Joint Distribution committee.

Conditions in that region are sad beyond words to describe. There are 50,000 refugees in Salonki alone, in dire need of flour, clothing and blankets. The local supplies have been exhausted. Hundreds will die unless there is help from outside.

Money can be given to local representatives of any of the organizations above mentioned, or may be sent direct, if more convenient, to Elliot
Wadsworth, treasurer American Red Cross, Washington, D. C.; Cleveland
H. Dodge, treasurer of the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth avenue, New York; or the Literary Digest, 354 Fifth Avenue, New York.

BEAUTY IN VEGETABLES

The vegetables vanity case should be used, instead of the one containing powder and rouge, by the girls who wish to be truly and permanently beautiful. This is the advice offered by a popular health official of New York to a group of high school girls.

"Your dressing room should be the dining table," says the professor.
"Your lip stick should be a silver spoon filled with carmine beets, and your rouge cream-kissed carrots. The more boiled onions you eat, the farther away you will keep from the doctor."

It is good, sensible advice; and because all beauty hints which amount to anything must be health hints first of all, it is good advice for other persons than just the fair patrons of powder box and lip stick.

Beauty of complexion, just like beauty of character, must come from within to have any lasting qualities.
It is possible to apply a temporarily pleasing and deceptive veneer to either, but it vanishes easily under the stress of action, leaving the ugly and unwholesome foundation revealed to every beholder.

NATIONAL LEAGUE OF RINGERS

Would you believe that there are a million men and women in the United States who occasionally or regularly play quints? It is almost impossible to credit a statement to this effect, yet horseshoe fingers estimate that nine-tenths of 1 per cent of the population, or one person in every 110, is a devotee of the ancient game.

The estimate may be considerably exaggerated, yet it is a fact that quints has a very large following.
There are scores of state and county associations of players and quite an impressive number of leagues. In the agricultural commonwealth horse-

It is proposed to organize a national

TWENTY-FIVE GREATEST WOMEN

The Women's Universal alliance is to engrave on tablets in the Temple of Womanhood, in Washington, the names of the greatest women in the different states. It offers a prize of $50 for the best list of the twenty-five most famous women of Illinois the list to be accompanied by brief sketches of the women.

This is a practical way to call attention of the public, especially of the women, to the foremost women of a state. It has the result, also, of interesting the public in state history and in stimulating state pride.

The great men and women of any state are scarcely known to the citizens. A few names are well known, as, for instance, those of the first governors and soldiers. But state

BRINGING UP FATHER

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

(No. 89)

BY ELTON

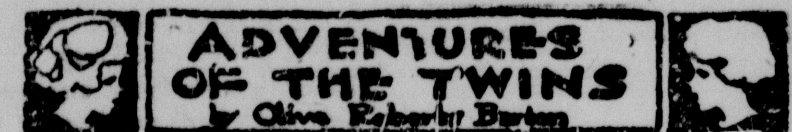

Jack crept cautiously around the rear of the castle. Another guard was sleeping on duty. This was luck for Jack. Nevertheless, he decided to remain quiet and await developments. In the meantime he made Flip lie down so he couldn't be seen.

Shortly the guard awoke. Then he started away to make his rounds. This gave Jack his chance and he climbed carefully over the fence. Flip followed and the two companions ran as fast as they could, away from old Ogre's mansion. Jack was glad to be free again.

After they had traveled out of sight of the big castle Jack picked out a place to spend the night. He was tired and very glad to rest. Flip slunk down beside Jack and the boy put his head on the dog's back. Soon they were fast asleep. Continued.

TWELVE TOES PHONES.

"Hello," she answered, taking down the receiver.

Twelve Toes was raging as usual. Twelve Toes, being a Sorcerer, had a perfect right to rage, he thought. Especially when he wasn't having his own way.

He wasn't having his own way now. Not a bit of it! He wanted something very much and he hadn't been able to get it.

You know what it was—the Fairy Queen's magic automobile that Nancy and Nick were riding in.

"The very ideal!" roared Twelve Toes. "To think that Light Fingers isn't smart enough to get that automobile for me! He's the best bad fairy I've got, better than Comet-Legs or Flap-Doodle or any of them—so something is the matter. I'll have to find out what it is."

He went to his telephone and called up the Sour Old Witch who lived under a waterfall. She was a good friend of his. Maybe she would know what the trouble was.

"Tingalingaling," went the Sour Old

Witch's telephone. "Hello," she answered taking down the receiver.

"Is that you, Raggyshank?" asked Twelve Toes, for that was her name. "None other," answered the Sour Old Witch. "Who're you?"

"It's Twelve Toes speaking," answered Twelve Toes. "Will you tell me why I can't get the magic automobile? Can't you help?"

"I did," said the Sour Old Witch in an upset voice. "I gave Light Fingers my magic egg with a stone wall in it and it wouldn't work worth a cent. No sooner did the stone wall appear than it fell down again."

"What?" screamed Twelve Toes. "What does that mean?"

"It means," said the witch, "that the Green Wizard is more powerful than we are. He is helping Nancy and Nick."

history is comparatively little known. Every citizen should have fairly complete knowledge of the nation's history and his state's history, and of the history of his country and town.

THE NEXT WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Now that the Giants have won the world's championship, fans will begin to speculate on next season. Interest wanes as soon as the honor is won. This year's championship is history. Next year's is something live.

All the experts predicted that the Yankees would win easily. The consensus of opinion was that the Yankees would take four straight games. They indicated that the Yankees had the pitchers, and batters and the team play.

None of them seemed to note that the Yankees had been under a severe strain to win the pennant and had finished the season only one game ahead of the Browns, whereas the Giants had an easy finish, their only serious fear being from the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose chances were small because they had to fight their way up almost from the bottom. The Giants were fresh and sure, the Yankees worn out and at tension. The one indisputable fact is that the Giants outplayed the Yankees. And the next question of importance relates to next year's honors.

The Supreme Court reviews a law suit, brought by a railroad, involving only $1.16. Financially it may seem like a foolish venture. But it is not, for the purpose is to decide a point of law affecting large sums. It's a test case.

In similar cases, involving a "principle," individuals should always ask themselves, "Is the game worth the candle?" The Donnelly-McArdie case started in New York in 1891, involved only $48,000. The suit, when it was finally settled in 1914, had cost $500,000. Lawyers got the bone of contention and $452,000 to boot.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God.—1 John 3:21.

Shakespeare was forbidden of heaven to have any plans. Neither he nor the sun did, on any morning that they rose together, receive charge from their maker concerning such things. They were both of them to shine on the evil and on the good.—
John Ruskin.

ROOSEVELT

By Berton Braley

He looked at life as a game to play,
With all of his glorious zest,
And he played it manfully, day by day,
While the heart beat high in his breast.

He never whined when the play was spilled,
Or the surging line thrown back,
But ever anew his soul was thrilled
As he leaped to a fresh attack!

He loved the sun and the good brown earth,
And horses and dogs and men,
And joyous labor and brave clean mirth,
And ever and ever again
He'd turn with a smile from the cares of state
To romp with his kids a span;
A bully Father, a knightly Mate,
And a yard-wide, all-wool Man!

And though he stood with his feet on the ground,
His eyes were not blind to stars.
He fought for the vision his soul had found.
Nor winced at his battle-scars.
In the hearts of men is his monument.
Though Greatheart himself is gone,
Who lived his life to the top of his bent,
And died with his harness on!

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Now there's a new reason for insisting on Quaker Oats. Our experts have perfected a quick-cooking Quaker which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. So it means an oat dish almost ready to serve.

It has our super-flavor. All Quaker Oats are flaked from queen grains only. We get but ten pounds from a bushel.

But in Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked.
So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles.
Both offer incomparable flavor.
Instant offers the quickest-cooking oats in the world. Say which you want.

CURED BY A NATIVE HERB.

On board a vessel bound for India recently a man was bitten by a poisonous reptile; both the ship doctor and a famous surgeon failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system.

In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for, who produced a native herb which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.

Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value in the treatment of such ailments.

This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper for it.—Adv.

REYNOLDS CHURCH NEWS

Rev. J. G. Feucht, Pastor.
Sunday school meets next Sunday at 9:45 a. m. Let us all make a special effort to attend both Sunday school and preaching service. So far during the month of October we have almost doubled the attendance of last year for the same period. Our offerings were more than doubled. While this is a splendid increase there are still many more whom we would like to see become regular attendants. We urgently invite everyone in the community to join our forces and help to make the S. S. the large blessing it should be to the whole community.

In view of the recently consummated union between the United Evangelical Church and the Evangelical Association it was deemed appropriate to hold a union service at the Evangelical church in Ashton. This is a great milestone in the history of the churches and well worthy of special emphasis by the two congregations. Let us make it truly a union of spirit by fulfilling the Master's own prayer, "That they all might be one."

The Dinner on the Diner and the Coffee afterwards

When the old Rock Island, with its "Seventy Years Of Service," pulls out of the La Salle Street Station with you and your long dreamed of trip to California, please don't forget for a minute that you have begun the enjoyment of three of the most wonderful days that will ever happen to you in your life.

And not the least of these pleasures, as all the scenic beauty of America is laid before you piece by piece through the broad windows of the "Golden State Limited," will be the fitting excellence of the dinners on their diners and the superb coffee that adds the last delightful touch to your well-being as you hurry toward the west and the setting sun.

And that coffee, in keeping with the policy "Rock Island meals—the best on wheels," and all the other excellences of Rock Island's seventy years of knowing how, is Thomas J. Webb Coffee, of course.

Perhaps the thing that sells more Thomas J. Webb Coffee than anything else is the fact that nearly always when you have finished a wonderful dinner in some attractive place on some eventful day, you suddenly find that the coffee that added the last touch to your pleasure was Thomas J. Webb Coffee. And then it comes to you that you can have the same coffee every day in your own home.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The savage battle for possession of the Flaming Jewel rages about the Adirondacks where MIKE CLINCH has hoarded the priceless gem as the sole means of giving his beautiful step-daughter, EVE STRAYER, the "education of a lady."

The jewel was first stolen from the refuge COUNTESS OF ESTHONIA by the great international thief, QUINTANA. Clinch stole the gem from Quintana. Now Quintana has returned with his gang of cut-throats and will stop at nothing to regain possession of the jewel. For love of the countess, JAMES DARRAGH, under the name of HAL SMITH, also fights for the jewel. Darragh is the nephew of Harrod, the wealthy millionaire, who years ago destroyed Clinch's honest business of guiding hunters. Eve and her lover, TROOPER STORMONT, escape from Quintana by swimming Star Lake. Eve carrying what she believes to be the jewels in her mouth. Darragh took what Eve thought was an empty packet from Quintana and finds the real jewels in a false bottom. Eve, Stormont and Darragh go to the latter's hunting lodge while Mike Clinch continues his battle with Quintana and the robber gang.

Go on With the Story CHAPTER II

WHEN Stormont gently halted his horse it was dawn, and Eve, sagging against him with one arm around his neck, sat saddled up on her saddle fast asleep.

In a birch woods, on the eastern slope of the divide, stood the log amp, dimly visible in the silvery light of early morning.

Darragh, cautioning Stormont with a slight gesture, went forward, mounted the rustic veranda, and knocked at a lighted window.

A man, already dressed, came and peered out at him, then hurried to open the door.

"I didn't know you, Captain Darragh," he began, but fell silent under the warning gesture that checked him.

"I've a guest outside. She's Clinch's step-daughter, Eve Strayer. She knows me by the name of Hal Smith. Do you understand?"

"Yes, sir—"

"Cut that out, too. I'm Hal Smith to you, also. State Trooper Stormont is out there with Eve Strayer. He was a comrade of mine in Russia. I'm Hal Smith to him, by mutual agreement. Now do you get me, Ralph?"

"Sure, Hal. Go on; spit it out!" They both grinned.

"You're a hoot runner," said Darragh. "This is your shack. The hatchery is only a blind. That's all you have to know, Ralph. So put that girl into my room and let her sleep till she wakes of her own accord."

"Stormont and I will take two of the guest-bunks in the L. And for heaven's sake make us some coffee when you make your own. But first come out and take the horse."

They went out together. Stormont lifted Eve out of the saddle. She did not wake. Darragh led the way into the log house and along a corridor to his own room.

"Turn down the sheets," whispered Stormont. And, when the bed was ready, "Can you get a bath towel, Jim?"

Darragh fetched one from the connecting bathroom.

"Your agent is politeness, consideration and kindness itself. We have our accommodations. We leave New York at midnight."

"Ricca is so excited that it is difficult for her to restrain her happiness. God knows the child has seen enough of unhappiness to quench the gaiety of anybody! Well, all things end. Even tears. Even the Red Terror shall pass from our beloved Russia. For, after all, Monsieur, God still lives."

"Valentine."

"P. S. Ricca has written to you. I have read the letter. I have let it go uncensored."

Darragh went to the door of his room:

"Ralph! Ralph!" he called. And, when Wier hurriedly appeared:

"What times does the midnight train from New York get into Five Lakes?"

"A little before nine—"

"You can make it in the flivver, can't you?"

"Yes, if I start now."

"All right. Two ladies. You're to bring them to the house, not here. Mrs. Ray knows about them. And—get back here as soon as you can."

He closed his door again, sat down on the bed and opened the other letter. His hand shook as he unfolded it. He was so scared and excited that he could scarcely decipher the angular, girlish penmanship:

"To dear Captain Darragh, our champion and friend—"

"It is difficult for me, monsieur, to express my happiness and my deep gratitude in the so cold formality of the written page."

"Alas, sir, it will be still more difficult to find words for it when again I have the happiness of greeting you in proper person."

"Valentine has told you everything, she warns me, and I am, therefore, somewhat at a loss to know what I should write to you."

"Yet, I know very well what I would write if I dare. It is this: that I wish to know—although it may not pass the censor—that I am most impatient to see you, Monsieur. Not because of kindness past, nor with an unworthy expectation of benefits to come. But because of friendship—the deepest, sincerest of my whole life."

"Is it not modest of a young girl to say this? Yet, surely all the world which was once on regle, formal, artificial, has been burnt out of our hearts by this so frightful calamity which has overwhelmed the world with fire and blood."

"If ever on earth there was a time when we might venture to express with candor what is hidden within our minds and hearts, it would seem, Monsieur, that the time is now."

"True, I have known you only for one day and one evening. Yet, what happened to the world in that brief space of time—and to us, Monsieur—brought us together as though our meeting were but a blessed reunion after the happy intimacy of many years. . . . I speak, Monsieur, for myself. May I hope that I speak, also, for you?"

"With a heart too full to thank you, and with expectations indescribable—but with courage, always, for any event—I take my leave of you at the foot of this page. Like death—I trust—my adieu is not the end, but the beginning. It is not farewell; it is a greeting to him whom I most honor in all the world. . . . And would willingly obey if he shall command. And otherwise—all else that in his mind—and heart—he might desire."

"Theodorica."

It was the most beautiful love letter any man ever received in all the history of love.

And it had passed the censor.

Roosevelt Saving Certificate Ready for Purchaser Now

Washington, D. C.—Officials of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department, on the eve of the anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, are pointing to his famous utterance, "If you are sure you are beginning right, begin to save," as a worthy slogan to be used in the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates.

The anniversary of Roosevelt's birth Friday again brings to the attention of the public the important part he played in making the people of the United States more thrifty. Because of his efforts to instill economy and to create a desire on the part of the public to have, the government has used Colonel Roosevelt's picture on its $25 Treasury Savings Certificates.

In discussing the redemption of the 1918 War Savings Stamps the latter part of this year, Treasury Department officials state that they are very desirous that the public reinvest this money in Treasury Savings Certificates with the idea that the gigantic sum to be returned to the people will not fall into the hands of unscrupulous salesmen of securities of doubtful value.

The new $25 Roosevelt Certificates can be bought at or through any post office at $20.50 each. Similar certificates of $100 and $1,000 denominations can be bought at $82.00 and $820 each, respectively.

Don't Know to Whom to Pay Indebtedness

Chicago, Oct. 26.—An echo of the search for assets of the estate of Mrs. Ora B. Ridgley, who died in Hot Springs, Ark., last June and whose large estate apparently dwindled to a few thousand dollars when the matter was brought in the probate court here, was heard today in circuit court. J. M. Woodcock of Chicago filed a bill to determine to whom he should pay a note of $5,500 for a loan which he received from Mrs. Ridgley on October 29, 1921. Lacy J. Rockey, administratrix of the estate, and C. W. Elliott, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, both demand payment. Elliott is said to be in possession of the note.

GREAT SPIRIT IS EVIDENT AROUND ILLINI CAMPUS

Fine Showing of Team Against Iowa Tonic to Everyone.

Urbana, Ill.—There's a different kind of atmosphere on Illinois field. The fighting Illini, inspired by their great come-back against Iowa, look ahead with new confidence. The showing against the conquerors of Yale was just as good as victory in its tonic effect upon players, students and alumni.

But Zuppke has a big job to round his scrappy kids into trim for the invasion of Michigan. Fielding Yost is presumed to have the goods after his impressive rout of Ohio. The Illini will entrain Thursday night.

No changes in the lineup are probable except possibly that Richards may replace Rekusek at end if his condition improves. George Dawson, who piloted the Illini when they drove over the Hawkeye goal for Illinois' touchdown, was promoted to first substitute quarterback. Dawson's passing was another factor.

When Zuppke booked Northwestern for a game on Illinois field Saturday, Nov. 4, he figured a breathing space after the combat with the Wolverines. But lo and behold—here is a surprising new kind of Purple's team which held the strong Chicago to a 14 to 7 score, then tied Minnesota. It is evident that Coach Thistlewaite is developing his men rapidly and that Zuppke must not shoot all his ammunition at Ann Arbor.

Only about 300 rooters will make the long trip to Jostville and local interest focuses on the battle with Northwestern, Nov. 4, will be Dads' Day and several thousand fathers will be here to see their children. The Champaign Rotary club will be host at an inter-city meet with International President Havens as a feature.

Sheriff Peters Asks Rehearing of Cause

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 26.—A petition for rehearing was filed in supreme court this morning by attorneys for Sheriff Charles W. Peters of Cook county in the case in which he was ordered to take into custody present and former members of the Chicago school board who had been pardoned by Governor Small after they had been ordered fined and sentenced to brief terms in jail for contempt of court. The rehearing petition contends the Supreme Court was in error in holding the contempt to be civil rather than criminal contempt.

Britain Asks for Bids on Warships

London, Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press).—The Admiralty, it was stated today on high authority, has issued tenders for the construction of two 35,000-ton battle ships. This is in accordance with the Washington agreement, but there has been much discussion as to whether Great Britain would build these ships.
